The access to Mt. Mitake

General instruction

- No reservation is needed for trains.
- You need the SUICA card at the station gates and bus doors during the travel. The estimated cost for trains/buses from Tokyo station is 4,540 yen for a round trip. In addition, you need 500 yen to buy the SUICA card at the JR stations/airports for the first time.
 - If you have the ICOCA card, you can use it and you don't have to buy the SUICA card.
- Mt. Mitake is 929 meters high. The mountain and other places have steep slopes. Well-fitted shoes are necessary. Gloves are helpful.
- Google Maps is good for checking the time and direction of the trains/buses.
- You are expected to bring your lunch and have lunch at Mt.Mitake. ~~Otherwise, you can go to the restaurants at Mt.Mitake (about 1000—2000 yen for lunch).~~
- Bring cash with you. The availability of credit cards is limited in the mountain area.
- Meet at 10:35 on Nov. 27 (Wed.) at JR Mitake Station.

1. JR Tokyo Station to JR Mitake Station

- At the Tokyo station, trains of Chuo and Ome lines depart at the same platform (No.1 and 2) which can be accessed through the long escalator from the ground floor.
- Tokyo station is the starting point of the Chuo and Ome lines. Check the electric timetable at the platform.
 - Every five minutes, a train departs.
 - Even if you take the wrong train, don't be nervous. All trains will go to JR Tachikawa; then, you can change the train to Ome. Check Google Map.
- Typically, trains have a restroom.

2. Bus: JR Mitake Station to Takimoto Station (Mitaketozan Cable)

Meet around 10:35 on Nov. 27 (Wed.) at JR Mitake Station. It is a small station. We can meet each other easily.
